

MEET KEISHA

Keisha and her son have been practicing baseball after school and are looking for more kids to join them twice a week. She offers this up on the Tiger Talk channel for after-school activities.

MEET PRESTON

Preston is a single parent of a 2nd grader and needs more time to work, destress and socialize. He would like to set up an outdoor, bi-weekly playdate with another caregiver so they may take turns chaperoning – both getting some time to themselves. He posts this idea to the Tiger Talk channel for 2nd grade.

MEET JOEY

Joey is trying to raise anti-racist white children in Evanston. He is passionate about equity and social justice. He hopes to expand his awareness by connecting with other Dewey caregivers. So Joey created a new Tiger Talk channel titled Dewey Anti-Racism Movement.

MEET HANNAH

Hannah is a stay-at-home mom of three. She is feeling overwhelmed with her 24/7 parenting duties and the demands of e-learning. She'd like to virtually meet other caregivers in hopes of finding solidarity and helpful strategies to get through the upcoming months. She chooses to reach out on the 3rd grade and kindergarten channels on Tiger Talk.

BE A PART OF THE DISCUSSION

MEET SAGA

Saga is a professional coding engineer who is currently teaching coding to their 4th grader and niece. They can host up to five more Dewey Tigers (grades 4-5) in a free, 2-month virtual coding class. Saga presents their offer on the Tiger Talk 4th and 5th grade channels.
