Kids Fare

A great way to spend Saturday morning with the whole family!

Kids Fare Spring 2017

Whether you're new to Kids Fare or already a fan, these Saturday morning programs can awaken your child's creativity and provide tools for enjoying, understanding, and making music. Led by Northwestern faculty members, guest artists, and students, the one-hour programs are an ideal way for children (ages three to eight) to learn about artists and the arts in a comfortable and fun setting. Each interactive program will engage children's imaginations and enhance their understanding of music through song, guided listening experiences, and creative movement.

Parking is free for all Kids Fare events.
